COE is now a Four-Time Winner of the Forbes ‘America’s Best Management Consulting Firms’ Award

Rockville, MD – The Center for Organizational Excellence, Inc. (COE) has once again been awarded the 2022 Forbes ‘America’s Best Management Consulting Firms’ for the fourth consecutive year.

Forbes selected America’s Best Management Consulting Firms based on two independent surveys. In the ‘Expert Survey,’ 7500+ management consulting executives and partners were asked to make peer recommendations for consultancies in 16 industries and 16 functional areas. Once down selected, the ‘Client Survey’ asks senior executive clients to evaluate those management consultancies they have worked with during the last four years. Out of this, a handful of firms are selected.

Steve Goodrich, CEO, and President of COE, responded to the news, “COE is ecstatic to be once again recognized on the 2022 Forbes list of America’s Best Management Consulting Firms for the fourth year in a row. This award reiterates what we are passionate about — being a trusted partner in helping our clients transform to more efficiently and effectively accomplish their mission.”
